

Wine Estates in Germany

DOMINIKANER WEINGUT
C.von Nell-Breuning, Kasel (Ruwer)

Region: RUWER (Mosel)
Vineyards: Kasel (Dominikanerberg, Nies'chen, Kehrnagel)
Varietals: Riesling
Owner: Carmen von Nell-Breuning
Winemaker:

Remarks: producing mineral-loaded, flinty yet delicate
Ruwer wines, which combine well with fine cuisine

The history of the wine estate dates back to 1670, and the von Nells held important positions in the clerical world, as well as in the city of Trier. Christoph von Nell has managed the estate since 1970, and in 2013, his daughter Carmen has taken over at the helm, ably assisted by her parents.

The secluded Ruwer river valley near Trier is small and rural like the Saar, and also a tributary of the Mosel, but is also the home of other highly-rated estates such as Karthäuserhof, Maximin Grünhaus and Kesselstatt. The von Nell vineyards are steep, south-facing and composed of Devonian black & blue slate. The Dominikanerberg is a monopole site of the estate. Apart from the production of wine and sparkling Sekt, a neighbouring hotel and fine restaurant also belong to the estate, in a former monastery dating from the 18th Century.

These Ruwer Riesling wines are mineral-loaded and terroir-driven, flinty yet also delicate and elegant with fine maturing potential.

New label

